“Thank you Native Remedies! I never thought that taking a few drops of a liquid three times a day could make such a difference.”

- John, IL, USA

Prepare for Passion

Ikawe for Men can be your key to great sex. This 100% safe herbal remedy maintains your inborn ability to get an erection.

Better yet, it's been formulated with powerful herbs for every stage of your sexual experience.

And Ikawe doesn't just support the erection process. This completely natural remedy also keeps your entire reproductive system functioning like a well-oiled machine.

Simply take this convenient liquid three times daily. It goes right to work in your body.

Remember that your body must keep working well during your entire sexual experience in order for you to feel true orgasmic pleasure.

That's why Ikawe for Men contains herbs that can help you achieve six vital goals:

- Promote strong erections.
- Maintain sexual arousal.
- Support circulation for penile blood flow.
- Maintain sexual stamina.
- Support pleasurable, routine ejaculation.
- Keep your sex drive alive.

But the most important part of having great sex is getting an erection. Because of this, Ikawe was infused with seven time-honored herbs to help you maintain that ability:

- Horny goat weed
- Gokshura
- Eleuthero
- Saw palmetto
- Sarsaparilla
- Licorice
- Kola nut

Native Remedies' team of formulators has chosen all these herbs because scientists have found that there are several steps to getting an erection.

The erection starts with stimulation, which can be physical or psychological. When a man is sexually stimulated by sight, thought, or touch, his brain releases natural chemicals, according to the Weill Cornell Medical College.¹

The college notes that these chemicals send an electrical signal down the man's spine to his penis and stimulate the release of nitric oxide, relaxing the penile muscles and allowing blood to enter the penis.

After being filled with blood, the penis becomes erect.

The key to making all of that possible is to maintain the natural ability to get an erection. That's why Ikawe for Men contains herbs that promote all four stages of your erection.

1. Stage one is arousal.

You must be in the mood for sex. You must get aroused. That's why Ikawe contains the herb, gokshura.

Recently, while conducting an animal study, scientists found that gokshura could increase testosterone levels and enhance sexual behavior.²

Testosterone is an incredibly important male hormone. It's what fuels your sex drive. Without testosterone, you'd be like a car with an empty gas tank.

Gokshura can facilitate the process of creating this powerful hormone. When that's done, the next stage can begin.

2. Stage two is the transmission of nerve impulses.

As the Weill Cornell Medical College mentioned, after you've become aroused, your brain releases natural chemicals that send nerve impulses down your spine.

Thanks to herbs such as saw palmetto, sarsaparilla, and licorice, Ikawe for Men can help these impulses travel freely to your penis.

Remember that the prostate gland is directly on the path to your penis. So, Ikawe was formulated with saw palmetto to maintain the health of this gland. Scientists have found that saw palmetto inhibits the inflammation of cells lining the prostate.³

Two other herbs in Ikawe—sarsaparilla and licorice—also have anti-inflammatory properties.^{4,5}

When there's no inflamed tissue and nerve impulses can move freely, it's time for the next stage.

3. In stage three, nitric oxide is released.

Once electrical impulses reach your penis and stimulate nerves there, nitric oxide can be released and the penile muscles can relax.

Another herb in Ikawe for Men — horny goat weed — was included for nitric oxide (NO) production. One study found that icariin, a natural compound in horny goat weed, promotes the release of NO.⁶

Native Remedies could've stopped there. But we wanted you to reach stage four of your intense sexual experience.

4. Stage four involves muscular relaxation and erection.

After nitric oxide is released, the muscles lining the chambers of your penis can relax. Then blood can pour into your penis, giving you an erection.

Ikawe includes the herb, eleuthero, to support proper blood flow. One animal study found that eleuthero could help relax the vascular system, allowing blood to flow freely.⁷

The penis has its own vascular system and a relaxed penile vascular system can enable the penis to fill with blood, leading to an erection.

Of course, getting an erection isn't quite enough for great sex. You also need energy. That's why Ikawe for Men also contains kola nut. This herb can give you the energy you need to achieve a satisfying orgasm.

Still not convinced? See what people are saying about Ikawe!

Just read some of the letters that our customers have sent us:

“Ikawe has really [helped promote] my sex drive, as you said it would! My wife used to complain that I was never interested. She said her friends always complained that their husbands wanted too much sex but she hardly got any. Seriously, it was affecting my marriage. After taking Ikawe for 10 days, I could already feel the difference...”

—Derrick S., USA

“Since I was a teenager, I have been very shy and always felt like I couldn't approach women. I finally found a girlfriend, but things were not that great in bed I think because of my lack of confidence. Now, I feel much more relaxed, and I can enjoy sex like never before. [Ikawe] has made a big difference, and I feel proud to be naked with my girlfriend for the first time!”

—Steve C., NJ, USA

“I have to say thank you for giving me my confidence back in bed. I tried Ikawe for Men for a few weeks. The product really works. It has given me stamina and a strong libido!! I am able to have long-lasting erections...!”

—Joe, B.
